Why become an Interface pharmacist? We feel that's best answered by pharmacists already working in the team.

"Working as an Interface pharmacist provides me with variety and challenge daily, but just as important is the fact that I feel that I really make a difference." Carol

"It's fantastic to be valued by the practices and organisations we provide clinical services to. I've been able to develop my clinical skills and use them every day, providing reviews to improve patient care and help GPs improve the quality of care they offer to patients. That's what I trained to be a pharmacist for!" Riad

Whilst medicines management and medicines optimisation are at the core of our service offerings, beyond that our data insight capabilities, understanding of the patient journey and clinical experience ensures that we deliver so much more.

We pride ourselves on our ability to identify a clinical need and meet it quickly, using the clinical expertise of our pharmacists to combat the challenge. As such, we deliver services across a range of therapy areas including:

- › Diabetes
- › Osteoporosis and bone health
- › Stroke prevention in Atrial Fibrillation (AF)
- › Asthma
- › Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD)
- › Heart failure
- › Oral Nutritional Supplementation (ONS)

As well as continued training and development, Interface offer opportunities for career and personal progression. With clinical, commercial, IT and managerial roles available, our pharmacists can follow their individual interests and ambitions, furthering their career with Interface.

Finding the right role for you is important. Whilst you want to be happy in your everyday working life, you also need to feel proud and challenged in your role. Interface can offer pharmacists this and more.

If you would like to work as a pharmacist for a company that will value you and the services you deliver, then please contact us for more information on our current opportunities.

On a daily basis I get to work closely with a wide variety of the multidisciplinary team, from GPs and nurse specialists to medicines management pharmacists, CCGs and secondary care consultants. This variety is extremely rewarding as I know I am improving patient care and outcomes for patients, practices and CCGs.
